We ask the attention of the candid to a few considerations. Nature in every part of her works, has left indelible marks of adaptation and design. The constitution of the animals and vegetables of the torrid is such that they could not endure the cold of the trigid zone and vice verse. In regard to dis ease and its cure, the adaptation of remedies is not less striking. The Moss of Iceland and the Pine and Wild Cherry are justly celebrated for the cure of all diseases of the Lungs and Liver, which are so fearfully prevalent in all northern latitudes. In the year 1840, I was taken with an inflammation of the bowels, which I labored under for 6 weeks, when I gradually recovered. In the fall of 1841, I was attacked with a severe cold, which seated itself upon my lungs, and for the space of three years I was confined to my bed. I tried all kinds of medicines, and every variety of medical aid, without benefit; and thus I wearing along until the winter of 1844, when I heard of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. My friends persuaded me to give it a trial, though I had given up all hopes of recovery, and had prepared myself for the change of another world. Through their solicitation, I was induced to make use of the Genuine Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry The effect was truly astonishing. After five years of affliction, pain, and suffering, and after having spent four or five bundred dollars to no purpose, and the test and most re-pectable physicians had proved availing, I was soon restored to entire health by the blessing of God and the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I am now eajoying good health, and such is my altered appearance, that I am no longer anown when I meet my former acquemtances. I have gained rapidly in weight, and my flesh is firm and solid.
